

TREATING ARRHYTHMIAS

What is ATP (anti-tachycardia pacing)?

Key take-away points

- Anti-tachycardia pacing (ATP) is a painless method of treating some arrhythmias, in particular ventricular tachycardia (VT).
- ATP is fast pacing at rates slightly faster than the arrhythmia cycle length.
- ATP has been shown to prolong battery life and improves patient quality of life.

Notes