

ORBITAL

Knowing when to perform an orbital scan

General assessment of the eye to look for common ocular emergencies as well as normal findings.

An orbital scan can be used for patients presenting with many concerns:

- visual loss
- visual defect
- eye pain
- orbital trauma
- foreign body
- headache/increased intracranial pressure